Touching Melody

“Vampires. Why do we care? In these pages you will find what is very simply, the most literate, imaginative, and just plain fascinating answer to that question ever written.” ?Whitley Strieber In a culture that does not do death particularly well, we are obsessed with mortality. Margot Adler writes, “Vampires let us play with death and the issue of mortality. They let us ponder what it would mean to be truly long lived. Would the long view allow us to see the world differently, imagine social structures differently? Would it increase or decrease our reverence for the planet? Vampires allow us to ask questions we usually bury.” As Adler, a longtime NPR correspondent and question asker, sat vigil at her dying husband’s bedside, she found herself newly drawn to vampire novels and their explorations of mortality. Over the next four years—by now she has read more than 270 vampire novels, from teen to adult, from gothic to modern, from detective to comic—she began to see just how each era creates the vampires it needs. Dracula, an Eastern European monster, was the perfect vehicle for 19th-century England’s fear of outsiders and of disease seeping in through its large ports. In 1960s America, Dark Shadows gave us the morally conflicted vampire struggling against his own predatory nature, who still entralls us today. Think Spike and Angel, Stefan and Damon, Bill and Eric, the Cullens. Vampires Are Us explores the issues of power, politics, morality, identity, and even the fate of the planet that show up in vampire novels today. Perhaps, Adler suggests, our blood is oil, perhaps our prey is the planet. Perhaps vampires are us.

File Type PDF Blood And Snow 1 Rashelle Workman

Children of Depressed Mothers

"Roswell meets The Vampire Diaries in this mashup! Romance. Betrayal. A hot vampire kissing an alien princess?! Be swept away to the wiles of Wyoming and then to the stars in this seriously entertaining, twisted, science fiction/fantasy series." Betrayal sucks! I should know. On my sixteenth birthday, it was my destiny to become immortal and the next queen of my home planet, Kelari. Instead I was betrayed and sent to Earth where I was given a choice by the gods. Suffocate and die by Earth's atmosphere or help a human find his soulmate. Of course, I chose the latter. The decree sounded easy enough until I met the guy. Michael is gorgeous; I'll give him that. But he's also an arrogant jerk! No one could possibly love him—least of all me. But Michael is the least of my problems. There's a hot vampire after me, determined to make me like him. He's hard to resist, especially when he's kissing me. Not to mention a government group whose sole purpose is to hunt beings from other worlds. They've found out about my unearthly identity, and despite my human appearance, they are intent on capturing and dissecting me like some kind of a lab experiment. Thankfully my guardian Zaren followed me to this planet. He's sworn to protect me. He's done so my entire life. At least he's supposed to. But Earth is different than Kelari in more ways than one, and the planet is affecting me like neither of us expected. I don't think he counted on keeping me safe from my own traitorous heart. ___ THE IMMORTALS SERIES Venus Falling Venus Rising THE BLOOD AND SNOW SERIES Blood and Snow Masquerade's Moon Love Bleeds The Cindy Chronicles Vampire Lies A Beauty So Beastly Vampire Secrets Asha's Kisses Vampire Nights Alice in Demonland Vampire Prey Alice Fights Demonland Alice Takes Demonland ACROSS THE AGES SERIES Across the Ages The King's Paranormal Inquiries Division Past the Ages DEAD ROSES SERIES Sleeping Roses Kissed by a Rose

My name is Jasmine and I am an original vampire. A few weeks ago, Laeddin took me to the Gargoyle Realm. A lot happened there. We found Cole. Troy and Professor Pops showed up, and I did something something that needed to be done. Laeddin didn't approve of my choice, but it was the right decision. slaying another assassin. This time we are going to France. But it isn't our current day. When I wake, the obnoxious golden dragon, Abernathy has whisked me to fourteen hundred and twenty-eight, into a little town a week's journey from the Chateau de Chinon—the location of the third piece of crown. Strangely enough, Professor Pops is there, except he isn't a professor yet. Nor is he a vampire. He's a regular man in love with Joanna d'Arc, the one and only Joan of Arc all the history books talk about. Meeting her is incredible. The countryside is beautiful and our journey is filled with adventure, but even without the darkness and the Akuma, there is still the weight of my destiny weighing heavily on me. The darkness will overtake the world in a little more than a month. I must collect the last three pieces of the crown so I can destroy the wicked queen, save the world, and hopefully get my wings back. Fairy Academy

My name is Jasmine and I am an original vampire. To me, that meant living in the land of Sharra with my mom and dad, the king and queen. It also meant that I had wings firmly planted on my back and oodles of magic at my fingertips. It sounds amazing now, but for years I despised those unique qualities about myself. Instead of embracing my differences, I longed to be normal. I wanted to live in the human realm. Attend a regular high school, find a boyfriend, and receive my first kiss. One day, I met a genie named Laeddin and he granted my wish. That was a few months ago. A lot has happened since then. People have died. The world is dwindling in darkness. And a pestilence is turning all creatures into Akuma, demons whose only purpose is to serve the evil mistress, Maleficent. There is a single thread of hope.

They aren't a very friendly bunch, but I will do whatever it takes to collect the remaining pieces and save the world.

Strangely enough, Professor Pops is there, except he isn't a professor yet. Nor is he a vampire. He's a regular man in love with Joanna d'Arc, the one and only Joan of Arc all the history books talk about. Meeting her is incredible. New town. New job. New supernatural power. I reap the dead and there's plenty of work in Eerie Valley. My name is Faith Ghraives and I'm a detective in the small town of Eerie Valley, just outside of Los Angeles, California. A few months ago I started to see the spirits of the recently deceased. On one fateful night, I accidentally touched one and without knowing how sent the spirit to the afterlife. No one knows my secret because how would I tell them. Instead, I pretend to be just an average woman with a badge and gun. There are two cases my partner and I are working. The first is that of a child who's gone missing. The second involves dead strippers. The FBI is also involved. They believe the murders are the work of a twisted serial killer and they want to use me as bait. That means going undercover. As a stripper. The prospect is terrifying. Even more scary than seeing the dead. But I never was one to back down from a sucky situation. As we uncover more about each case, it becomes apparent nothing in this town is ordinary and the supernatural is everywhere.
